A one-day challenging symposium | Friday 23 June 2017
Victoria University, Flinders Street, Melbourne Campus

SURVIVE AND THRIVE 2
Paramedic Resilience Symposium

Join us in Melbourne, keep the conversation alive and take back the learnings to your fellow paramedics so we can build paramedic resilience.

- Tony Walker – Ambulance Victoria CEO – working together with beyondblue
- Liz Thyer – Burnout in Australian paramedics
- Ari Peach – Is counselling working for paramedics?
- Erin Smith – The long-term impact of 9/11 on first responders
- Personal paramedic stories and beating mental illness
- Black Dog Institute supporting first responders
- Mental health for rural and remote paramedics.

Experts, presentations, panel session, personal stories, research and support.

PA and ANZCP member rate $66 (inc GST)
Non-member rate $88 (inc GST)
(includes full day symposium and catering)

Register at www.paramedics.org/events/

Following the resounding success and interest generated in the first Survive and Thrive Symposium held in 2016, Survive and Thrive 2 will build on the commitment of these three organisations to address mental health of our paramedics in Australasia and New Zealand. Paramedics are four times more likely to suicide than any other health professional, we don’t want to own this statistic.